SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION TIPS

The following are meant to be guidelines -not rules- to assist you in the completion of your scholarship applications.

1. Research which scholarships exist.

Once you have narrowed down your university or college choices, compile a list of scholarships and awards offered by those institutions. University and College websites have links to their awards. Consider as well what scholarships and awards are available through CPET, and those offered by the public and private sector. Use scholarship websites, such as www.scholarshipscanada.com or www.studentawards.ca.

Private and public scholarships and awards are available from schools, companies and charities to governments or private individuals. Your starting point in a search for scholarships should begin at home with your parent(s). Ask whether the company or organization (even unions) in which your parents work offer any scholarships. Most companies that offer scholarships to employees or children of employees don't advertise externally. Parents could check with the human resources department for any scholarship offerings.

Veteran organizations give out a fair amount of scholarships. Maybe your parents belong to a lodge or a club that has a scholarship for members or children of members. You could also inquire whether your church, sports, service group or club has any special scholarships available.

Keep in mind that certain scholarships are automatic, in particular entrance scholarships. These scholarships are awarded simply on the basis of your academic standing (grade average). Unless otherwise noted, you do not even have to complete a scholarship application to receive one of these awards.

2. Ask for letters of recommendation

Start early. Discuss your plans with your references now, before the application is even available. Let them know what you would like to study and why you want to apply for the scholarship.

As soon as you have the application, meet with your references. Give your references a written description of the scholarship and a copy of your personal statement and proposed academic program. You may also want to highlight activities and achievements of which your references may not be aware. Provide your references with appropriately addressed envelopes with postage, if necessary. Be sure to also give them plenty of time to write the letter; do not wait until the last minute.

3. Meet the application deadlines

Most universities and colleges do not accept late applications. In order to meet deadlines, impose a deadline for yourself that is at least two weeks before the stated deadline. Use this 'buffer time' to proofread your application before you send it off.

YOU are responsible for making sure all parts of the application arrive on time. This includes supporting materials, such as letters of recommendation and transcripts. So make sure everyone who is contributing to your application has ample lead-time.

4. Neatness counts

Make several photocopies of all the forms you receive and use the copies as working drafts as you develop your application packet. If possible, type the application that you submit. If you must print, do so neatly and legibly.

Proofread the entire application carefully. Nothing is less impressive than an application with misspelled words or grammatical errors. Ask a friend, teacher or parent to proofread it as well.

5. Be informed

Make sure you know everything about the award before you apply for it. Be sure you meet all the requirements, and be realistic in determining whether you qualify. The last thing you want is to be eligible for a scholarship but somehow have missed some important detail of the application package.

6. Sink rocks; don't skip stones

When it comes to highlighting your attributes and strengths, avoid simply listing every thing that you have ever done with details. Focus on quality rather than quantity. Offer insight on what you gained from participating in an activity, rather than provide a bulleted list.

Compile a list of activities and accomplishments. Choose those that you can match to the scholarship's criteria and elaborate.

Use the following as a starting point for your list:

- Awards: Were you the student of the month, student of the year? Did you receive an award for your extra-curricular activities?
- Clubs: What clubs at school were you involved in? Were you in any school plays? Did you write for the school paper or yearbook? Were you involved with a religious youth group?
- Co-op Jobs: Where did you work? What did you do? What did you learn?
- International Exchanges: Did you travel abroad during school to study or volunteer? What did you learn about the culture?
- Part-time Jobs: Were you a cashier or clerk, babysitter, delivery person, courier, waiter, lawn care worker, camp counsellor, painter, etc.? Even if you had a really menial job that you hated, include it.
- Projects: Did you work on any large projects that you are particularly proud of?
- Scholastic Achievement: Did you get high marks? What was your average? Were you on the honour list? Which subject(s) do you excel in?
- School Associations: Were you involved with your school music council or athletic association? Were you a student representative for the parent-teachers association?
- Sports: What was your position on the school team? Were you the captain, co-captain, or manager? What skills did you learn?
- Student Government: Were you the president, secretary, treasurer, vice-president, class representative, or grade representative?
- Volunteer work at school: Were you a tutor? Coach's assistant? Office helper? Library assistant? Teacher's assistant? Technical support?
- Volunteer work out of school: Local hospital? Local public school? Local organization? Government office? Community newspaper? Sports team? Daycare centre? Nursing home? Describe your duties and state what you learned as a result of these experiences.

7. Make duplicates

Before sending off your applications, make copies. If your application is lost, or you spill coffee on it after pulling an all-nighter, you have a back up.

8. If you are notified that you have received a scholarship, send a thank you note to the donor.

MANITOBA STUDENT AID

The Manitoba Student Aid provides financial assistance for educational purposes to Manitobans with limited financial resources. Costs of post-secondary education are a shared responsibility among students, parents, spouses and government. Government assistance is intended to be a supplement to student and family resources. It is awarded through an assessment of financial need.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

- Be a Canadian citizen and Manitoba resident
- Take at least 60% of normal course load in an academic year
- Study at an approved institution in an approved program (min. 12 weeks)
- Have an assessed financial need

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

The Manitoba Student Aid Program administers the Canada Student Loans Program (CSLP) on behalf of the Federal Government. Needs of up to $275 per week are met with funds cost-shared between the federal and provincial governments. An additional $40 per week is available for students who are eligible for Manitoba Study Assistance, for a total maximum of $315 per week. Student Loans are interest-free while you are a full-time student. You must begin repayment of the loan six months after you cease to be a full-time student, or if you withdraw from studies.

PRINCE OF WALES / PRINCESS ANNE AWARDS: Non-repayable provincial awards of $200 per year are available to students of Canadian Aboriginal ancestry provided they have a need of at least $1 as determined on a Canada Student Loan/Manitoba Student Loan assessment.

CANADA STUDY GRANTS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Assistance (up to $5,000) is available in the form of Special Opportunity Grants and Permanent Disability Benefits for Students With Disabilities. Awards may be provided to cover such costs as tutoring, handy-transit, and tape recorders. Awards do not cover costs for tuition fees, books and supplies, and wheelchairs. Students must first apply for a Canada Student Loan to establish need.

CANADA STUDENT LOANS FOR STUDENTS IN PART-TIME STUDIES:

Post-secondary students having a valid reason for taking between 20 and 59% of a full course-load may apply for these loans. This assistance is provided by the federal government and is based on an assessment of financial need. There are maximum income limits for part-time loan eligibility.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS for FEMALE DOCTORAL STUDENTS:

The federal government also provides this assistance. Only certain fields of study are eligible, and students must be taking studies at the doctoral (PhD) level.

APPLICATION INFORMATION

Applications may be obtained from the CPET counselling office (after May 15th), or from the Student Financial Assistance Program, Manitoba Education and Training, 693 Taylor Avenue, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3M 3T9. (945-6321) or call toll-free in Manitoba (not including Winnipeg) 1-800-204-1685. Application for loans and bursaries must be received as early as possible to be processed before classes start in September. It takes six to eight weeks to process an application, provided it is complete and includes all required documentation.
